CLOSER LOOK: A last-place finish and career-low Beyer speed figure posted the last time racing at 7F on a fast-main track; in her last SA dirt start in March she only beat 1 runner home chasing the winner who posted a 96 Beyer in her next-out G1-SA Oaks score; rallied from last to win a G3 over the track in January but not much form to speak of since.

More than 10 weeks since edged at SAR noting her only race on SA dirt was a Grade 1 win at today's distance defeating the runner-up finisher who posted 105 then 103 Beyer speed figures in next-out DMR-allowance and G3 wins; she loves SAR with a career-best Beyer there so latest start was not a surprise when just missing; consistent sort has not raced poorly in a sprint since August, 2012.

Upset G1 winner 3-back; her best races are when she breaks alertly and becomes part of the pace; positive weight breaks from runners who defeated her at SAR over the summer but not easy to back off latest fade at shorter vs. a lot lesser; 1st time on SA dirt today and projects as a pace presence for part.

Lone race at 7F on dirt was a favored-Grade 1 win and is now 3-for-3 in sprints; beat the 3-back show runner who Beyered 83 in her next-out BSR-50K stakes win; defeated the June show finisher who scored next out in a DMR allowance with an 86 speed figure; wish the dirt Beyers were stronger while breaking widest is sure to lose ground. -Art Gropper

CLOSER LOOK: Avg. winning Beyer for this race about 110; things went south badly for him in England this year but he's come to the U.S. and has a new lease on life; first win at DMR was nice enough but it was that big win in the G2 City of Hope Mile here that put him on the map and earned him this shot; that being said, he never even hinted at this kind of talent in England so can this 3yo go from relatively obscurity to making a huge splash in a race that boasts defending champ and HOY Wise Dan and a top-class Euro in Olympic Glory, hmmm?

Darn near won the G1 Kilroe Mile on this course March 2, finishing a nose behind Suggestive Boy, at the time SoCal's top turf miler; then tried Wise Dan to no avail in the G1 Maker's Mark but that was in 'Dan's backyard and this guy ended up on the lead, neither of which helped; well, now we're in THIS guy's sandbox and he surely won't be on the lead with the likes of Obviously and 'Max signed up here; freshened since a fine G2 DMR Mile try (3rd, beaten less than a length) and he's been working splendidly.

Flashed big ability last year but things got off to a rocky start this year; well, that's all forgotten now as he's won 4 of his last 5 including taking down the game's biggest scalp when he beat HOY Wise Dan in the off-the-turf G1 Shadwell Turf at KEE Oct. 5; surface switch shouldn't have hindered Dan, either, as he's been big on that footing; no, this guy just ran them off their feet as he led all the way; comes here in peak form, with turf and distance right up his alley; but, and there's always a but, he's yet to do much in the passing lane (in fact all 11 wins have come wire-to-wire), so what's he to do about that other speedster (Obviously) in the stall to his immediate right who may be quicker?

Excellent 3rd in this last year, beaten just 2 lengths by Wise Dan and Ky. Derby winner Animal Kingdom; trouble is, he went into last year's edition riding high, having won his prior 3 in dazzling fashion; that isn't the case this year; oh, he looked super at BHP earlier this spring but his G2 DMR Mile win, while nice, didn't make jaws drop and then he hit the brakes in the lane in the G2 City of Hope Mile here Oct. 5; figures to go, go, go from the bell today as speed is his main weapon, but he and Max have the same concern: each other early; can either survive that expected early battle and still have enough to deal with 'Dan and anyone else who comes rolling late?

Originally stablemate Toronado, generally considered the better of the 2, was to come here but Hannon opted to bring this guy instead; hey, this is no mere pinchhitter, either; this guy is a G1 SW playing this game in England; can absolutely blast home, though that may present a problem here; the tighter configuration of this course means a likely more bunched-up field, meaning if he's way back turning for home he's going to need all the breaks in terms of traffic to get through unobstructed; let's face it, he can't sit back, have traffic issues and expect to beat a horse like Wise Dan, but if things break his way, well, look out.

Turned into a monster on turf here this past winter with 3 romping wins including a then-world record for 1 1/2 miles in the G2 San Luis Rey; to show his versatility the first of those 3 big turf wins came at this distance on this course, so he handles this game just fine, thank you; however, after the San Luis Rey March 16 he suffered broken splint bone which required surgery and hasn't been seen since; that makes for a very long layoff and while he has handled a mile he hasn't faced anything like what he faces here; that strong work all came with speed, but the presence of Obviously and Silver Max, who both figure quicker, likely mean no easy lead, though he has won from off the pace; still, the hurdles are significant.

Really come into his own in recent months; gone from a state-bred SW to being twice G2 SP, both in races just like this against the West's top milers; Beyers continue to trend north, too; all that being said, the specter of defending champ and HOY Wise Dan and bigshot Euro Olympic Glory make this an incredibly difficult spot; but hey, at least he comes here on top of his game and in fact is seemingly getting better, and if No Jet Lag and Obviously are possible contenders here - and they are - then doesn't it follow that this guy who has been right alongside those 2 is as well?; darn tootin' it does, and he's the type who figures to get ignored at the windows.

Defending champ and HOY may have had his bubble of invincibility punctured when 2nd in the off-the-turf- G1 Shadwell Turf Mile at KEE Oct. 5 but it's not as if he ran poorly; in fact, on the far turn it looked as though he would reel in Silver Max and stay perfect; alas, 'Max just kept running so it wasn't a case of this guy losing as much as it was a case of 'Max winning; in fact, there s reason to believe 'Dan is as good or better this year; he was monstrous winning the G1 Woodbine Mile Sept. 15, the same race he prepped in for this run last year; his tactical speed remains in tact and you can make the case this year's edition of this race isn't as strong as last year's so he may not need to be as good as the 2012 version to defend.

Biting off an awful lot; still, he's a Euro with some ability as he's a SW; yet to make a dent in 3 G1s, however, so you do worry a bit as to whether he has the necessary oomph to be a player with this caliber; good news is he hinted at ample ability in June 2012 when a good 3rd in the G2 Coventry where the winner was Dawn Approach (G1 SW) and runner-up was today's foe Olympic Glory (who only beat this guy by a neck); still, we've seen O'Brien come to this race armed with significantly more power and even on those occasions couldn't get the top prize.

Trainer Clement originally said after this guy won the G3 Knickerbocker at BEL Oct. 12 that they would likely target the G2 Citation at BHP later this month; however, the realization this guy loves firm footing brought about a change of heart; 5yo was a fine 2nd in the G1 Shoemaker Mile at BHP June 29 and ran 2nd to 'Dan in the G1 Woodbine Mile, so he's got quality; of course, it's one thing to beat Plainview and Howe Great as he did in the Knickerbocker and quite something else to try to topple 'Dan and co. but they know he loves the firm ground and is in the best form of his life so you surely can't blame 'em for taking a shot, particularly when you really have just the 2 standouts in a race where traffic can be a great equalizer. -Michael Hammersly
